8:45 AM - UTMB START

"The start is obviously emotional in many ways."

Distance: 164km | Elevation: 9,990m | Route: Chamonix → Chamonix

10:20 AM - CCC FINISH

First Male finisher completes CCC (2024 record).

10:50 AM - St Gervais

"St Gervais is an epic spectacle as the town is transformed and runners take over the closed roads coming into and out of the aid station/township. It also shows the race unfold after the first major climb out of the Chamonix Valley."

12:00 PM - CCC FINISH

First Female finisher completes CCC (2024 record).

12:00 PM - Notre Dame

"Notre Dame is a crazy crazy moment in the initial hours of night time. This section is lined with crazy spectators cheering, with flares, flags, horns, pretty sure there are fires burning too. It's crazy."

5:30 PM - Courmayeur Aid Station

"Courmayeur Aid station, the second aid station runners receive crewing, so it is awesome to see how they work with their crew and quickly they go in and out of this aid station and they are moving in the early hours of the morning, some crazy stats exist from this location, like the past 5 winners have all arrived here in first place, even though it is only 83.5km into the race (need to fact check this). But a great moment to see in the race. This year they will also have directional microphones to capture the conversation between crew and runner. This is also a very common place for runners to drop."

7:00 PM - Arnouvaz (Special Live Stream)

"Arnovaz - this will be live from 4am local time until 7am... Hosted by myself and Alexis... we should have a bit of fun here whilst the rest of Europe sleeps, we will hold the fort and livestream."

8:30 PM - Grand Col Ferret

"The Grand Col Ferret in an amazing drone shot of this high pass with sunrise, watching the leaders move over this section is spectacular. This is their transition from Italy to Switzerland."

11:00 PM - Champex-Lac (1st Male)

"Champex-Lac, the first time the runners see crew in the day light, pivotal moment in the race as this marks the 'homestretch'."

SATURDAY

12:15 AM - Champex-Lac (1st Female) 🌞

"Champex-Lac, the first time the runners see crew in the day light, pivotal moment in the race as this marks the 'homestretch'."

12:30 AM - Col de la Forclaz (1st Male) 🎉

"Col de la Forclaz another huge crowd/fan moment with huge crowds lining the trails for the leaders"

1:00 AM - Trient (1st Male) 📊

"Trient, next crewed aid station and this is where wheels can really be falling off, or typically the winner has a significant lead."

2:00 AM - Col de la Forclaz (1st Female) 🎉

"Col de la Forclaz another huge crowd/fan moment with huge crowds lining the trails for the leaders"

2:30 AM - CCC CUT-OFF 🕒

Final cut-off time for CCC participants.

2:30 AM - Trient (1st Female) 📊

"Trient, next crewed aid station and this is where wheels can really be falling off, or typically the winner has a significant lead."

2:30 AM - Vallorcine Aid Station (1st Male) 🚩

"Vallorcine Aid station, the last crew point and the finish is so very close. Positions of the top 10 can still change dramatically in this final section to the finish."

4:10 AM - La Flégère (1st Male) 🍷

"La Flégère is the final aid station and only 7km from the finish. Crowds here for the leaders are again, huge and wild. There is only one downhill back to Chamonix from here and if the leader is clear, it is certainly a 'victory lap' of sorts. But a very cool moment because there is not much standing in the way of finishing UTMB from this point. Although, podiums spots have changed on this section before."

4:20 AM - Vallorcine Aid Station (1st Female) 🚩

"Vallorcine Aid station, the last crew point and the finish is so very close. Positions of the top 10 can still change dramatically in this final section to the finish."

5:00 AM - UTMB FINISH (1st Male) 🏆

"The Finish, it'll likely be the most watched moment of the whole livestream... for obvious reasons."

6:20 AM - La Flégère (1st Female) 🥂

"La Flégère is the final aid station and only 7km from the finish. Crowds here for the leaders are again, huge and wild. There is only one downhill back to Chamonix from here and if the leader is clear, it is certainly a 'victory lap' of sorts. But a very cool moment because there is not much standing in the way of finishing UTMB from this point. Although, podiums spots have changed on this section before."

7:10 AM - UTMB FINISH (1st Female) 🏆

"The Finish, it'll likely be the most watched moment of the whole livestream... for obvious reasons."
